Buford Bill Predicts Six More Weeks of Wind

Meteorological Muskrat Sees Own Shadow

Famed rodent, Buford Bill performed his annual ritual and poked his head up from his burrow on the Buford town square on Feb. 2. Tradition has it that if he sees his shadow, local windsurfers are in for another 6 weeks of wind. And again, this year, Bill came out of his hole on a bright, crisp morning to give the local windsurfing community the good news.

Bob Murray, head of the Buford Muskrat Day Committee, held up Bill before his adoring fans, media and visiting potentates to announce the news. "As of 6:52 am, our dear muskrat, Buford Bill, came out and immediately

March Madness: 3rd Annual Long Distance Sail

Again, this March, the club will host a long distance sail on Lake Lanier to benefit Parent to Parent (PtoP). The past two years have demonstrated the vagaries of March with one year having us all overpowered and the next, pumping all the way home.

The beneficiary, PtoP, is locally based organization that not only is worthy in its own right but has positively affected the lives of families within the club. All funds raised go to PtoP; the club and corporate sponsors will bear the cost of the event. In each of the past years, we have raised almost $500.

The event is slightly changed from years past in only two areas:

First, there is a lower minimum pledge to participate, $10. This should encourage more participants, especially

"Adopt a Weekend" Plan Proposed

"It might just work..."

That maven of marketing, ace of advertising, wizard of windsurfing, Ed Marks has come up with a good idea. It probably has been suggested before but the difference this time is you're reading about here on the front page of the LWA.

Yes, yes, I know... it may be hard to believe that the LWA is capable of publishing a good idea but we are a nimble bunch once a revolver rests against our temple.

Ed suggests that a club member volunteer (Could the "V" word be the downfall of this plan? Windsurfers volunteer less often than donating a third kidney) to host a Club weekend at a favorite sailing spot each month. This honorable lady or gentleman could bring a few thermoses of a favorite hot/cold beverage and perhaps some snacks underwritten by the club treasury. The exact menu could vary from season to season and occur under the flying banner of the ABC. Both club members and guests could enjoy the club's hospitality.

I think it's a great idea. A capital idea. First rate. But we need one thing. You. yes, you. Not the other guy/gal. You. It wouldn't mean that you couldn't sail. Just set the stuff up before you head out and check in every so often to make sure that the squirrels aren't eating the stuff.

strangers are welcome.

The Brandy House is located 4365 Roswell Rd. N. right across from and about 500 yds. down south on Roswell from our old location (tel: 404-252-7784). This is about 2 miles inside the Perimeter on Roswell, just past Wieuca Rd. on the left.

Next month's meeting will be on Tuesday, March 9th at 7:30 pm. As always, friends, guests, kids and total saw his shadow. Ladies and Gentleman, I suggest you rig small with lots of downhaul."

While some scoff at the idea of a rodent predicting the wind, a statistical survey last year by the Meteorology Dept. of Flowery Branch College not surprisingly found that Bill, 78% accurate, was more dependable than the National Weather Service. Several meteorological types were seen in the audience posting updates by cell phone back to their offices; and a correspondent from the Weather Channel posted a live report from the site of festivities.

If, in fact, February continues to be windy, the next time on your way visit Van Pugh or another Lanier launch, take a moment to drive through Buford and thank the little guy, Buford Bill, himself.

Iceberg: Hot and Spicy

(But No Wind)

This year's edition of the Iceberg Regatta followed the pattern of our recent warm spell. With temperatures in the high 60s and a high pressure sitting on Northeast Georgia, conditions were great for a picnic but awful for sailing in our annual "freeze your buns" event. Instead, the attendees followed the dictates of inertia and weather; and made the best of it, sunning themselves on the LLSC lawn and sampling some fine chili recipes.

Phil Duvic was this year's lone sailor of the 10-12 attendees. Phil ventured out on the water more suitable for waterskiing and pumped around a small Laser fleet. The Lasers got off a few races only by the most desperate of measures: the sun warming the shoreline rocks was just enough to cause a small thermal effect in a back cove.

The windsurfing fleet, confronted with the choice of nil wind and lots of pumping to Coke, beer and excellent chili opted for... hey, that's why we are windsurfers.

Our thanks to Carl Arrigoni, Dan Burch and Alex and Karen Navarrete who brought along fine examples of the culinary art which ranged from a white chicken chile, to seafood, regular and veggie versions.

This is a simple way to get involved with the club, meet people and would take very little time. You don't need to know how to race, waterstart, forward loop or even windsurf for that matter. All you need is a few hours and a smile. The club will swing the cost of the snacks and beverages (within reason- no tastings of rare vintage French Bordeaux please).

Sign me up!" you say? Good, that's just what we needed to hear. That was easy wasn't it? I'll bet you feel better for having said it than laboring under all that guilt of figuring out excuses. Besides, if Aunt Matilda really isn't sick, it isn't good karma to invoke her name. We wouldn't anything to befall her would we?

Call Ed at 404-266-3572 and we'll set up a weekend and publicize it in the LWA. If you're lucky, nobody will show up and you can eat all the Twinkies and guzzle Starbucks coffee till you're ready to drive straight through to Mexico.

if conditions are less than epic. However to score the ever popular Long Distance T-shirt, we ask that you pledge $20. For those who collect $50 in pledges, you get a nice Windsense along with your T-shirt. If you really hit up on your colleagues that have gotten you every time they've run a 10k, and get $100 in pledges, we'll throw in a cushy set of Windsense roof rack pads. And the most generous fund raiser gets a grand door prize that we'll announce in the next newsletter.

Remember, this is a good time to ask all your friends, etc. whom you've helped in similar events to reciprocate in kind. Anyway, most of them won't believe that you can sail across Lanier in March and live to tell the tale.

The second change is that the End Party will be held at the Lake Lanier Sailing Club which will allow a greater variety of "beverages" and offer shelter in inclement weather.

We hope to see you at the start... and the finish.

The Atlanta Boardsailing Club invites you to sail with us in the 3rd Annual
Long Distance Sail to Benefit Parent to Parent
March 13, 1999 (Wind Date March 14)

Between Buford Dam and Brown's Bridge on Scenic Lake Lanier

The Purpose

A fun event that will benefit Parent to Parent which provides support and resources to families of disabled children or those with special health needs. They have made a direct and positive impact on families within the club.

You may either have sponsors pledge an amount for the distance you sail or donate an entry pledge. This is NOT a race.

The Route

Depending upon the wind direction, we will sail the lower part of Lake Lanier between Buford Dam and Brown's Bridge. Depending upon wind strength, the course is subject to be shortened. Expected end points and rest stops are:

- West Bank Park at Buford Dam
- Van Pugh Park
- Lake Lanier Sailing Club

As the crow flies, this distance is about 12 miles. If the wind is S, SW, W to NW we will sail from the dam to the bridge. If it is N, NE, E, SE, we will start at the bridge. Tune into NOAA or the Weather Channel for predicted directions. Call 770-578-8417 or check the ABC website, the night before or the same day if in doubt. If the predicted wind is less than 10 mph or stronger than 30 mph, we will most likely wait until Sunday. Anything between, we will sail. (yes, non-planing conditions, too.)

Who can participate?

Because of the distance and possibility of rapidly changing conditions, the event itself is for experienced and competent windsurfers only. We invite anyone else to give us a hand with transporting equipment, chase boats, and rest stops. While we intend to have chase boats on the water to aid sailors, each sailor must be prepared for the diverse conditions Lake Lanier can present in the Spring- from virtual calm to wall-to-wall whitecaps.

Wind Makeup Date

The club may determine that wind conditions are insufficient to permit safe sailing of the course. In such case, we will attempt to sail on the following day. If wind conditions during the weekend due not permit safe sailing, the club may elect to cancel the event but all pledges and donations will still be due.

Schedule

- Saturday or Sunday
- 8:30-10:00 am Registration & Check-in, Coffee and Snacks.
- 10:00 am Skipper's Meeting
- 10:15 am Start
- 12:00 - 2:00 pm Lunch on the Grill
- 3:00 pm After Sail Party

The Rules

Rules? Yes, there are two rules: 1) We do this sail by 'go-kart' rules- the faster windsurfers in the front of the group sail back to back so we all try to stay together. 2) Smile and have fun.

Logistics

We will provide transportation for boards and sailors back to the starting point. We will also try to provide that additional equipment will be brought to the intermediate rest areas to allow sailors to rerig if conditions change.

The Goodies

It's only a $10 pledge to join the fun. Pledge or raise $20 and you get a nifty T-shirt as a bonus and which in years past have been in great demand. Think big ; get $50 in pledges and you get a handy Windsense uphaul to add to your booty. And if you raise $100, we'll throw in a cushy set of Windsense rack pads along with the rest of your loot. The windsurfer with the greatest amount of pledges will get a grand prize which is TBA but will be grand. All proceeds go to Parent to Parent. (None of this "net" fluff. What you raise is what we give.) The club and corporate sponsors will pick up the expenses.

How can you help if you aren't sailing in the event?

We'll need lots of help off the water, drivers, staff for the rest areas, help with the party afterwards. We will also need help with a chase boat. Also, consider buying the T-shirt or making a pledge. It'll look neat and the proceeds will help someone, too.

For more information

Contact Greg or Kelli Baxendale at 770 578-8417 (grebax@ufsnet.com). For more information about Parent to Parent, see their website at www.parentoparentofga.org.

Expected conditions and suggested equipment

It will be March after all, and as the last two years have shown, expect anything. If the wind looks the least bit iffy, a longboard is highly recommended. Also, this is Georgia, bring a big sail. If the wind is less than a steady 15, most sailors would benefit from something at least as big as a 7.5<sup>2</sup> m. (your mileage may vary with weight and rig).

Dec TBA ABC Holiday Party

Dear Dr. Fray:
I've been in a long term relationship with my board but it doesn't seem to be going anywhere. Is the situation hopeless? Is it time to seek greener pastures?
Signed, Same ol, same ol.
Dear S.OI.<sup>2</sup>

I see this problem quite often. You and your board, after seasons of happiness, seem stuck in a rut. I think there is hope for your situation but it will take work from both of you. The solution is straightforward- you aren't going anywhere because you're sailing back and forth (BAFing).

The next time you are at your favorite sailing spot, try this. Go upwind. Yes, it may seem hard at first, but you'll discover new horizons out there. You'll explore parts of the lake/beach you may not have seen before- new islands, channels, scenery. It may take either sailing powered up on your shortboard or that trusty daggerboard on that ol' log of yours. Either way, you and your steady will discover new pastures together.

Dear Dr. Fray:

I'm a long time reader and I hope you can answer this question- is my relationship with my sails be mended even though I've demoed new stuff on a recent trip west? I fear that I've broken the trust with my old gear.

Signed, Strayed in Seattle

Dear S in S:

Sometimes these situations can be overcome, but in a case like yours, once you've tried monofilm, you can never go back to dacron, no matter how lovely and colorful it is. And that is the danger of being unfaithful to your old gear. You might find that it really doesn't compare to the new lovelies on the street. Be careful though and don't step out too often or you'll find yourself in an expensive, vicious, and ultimately fruitless circle of comparing new stuff to the stuff you own.

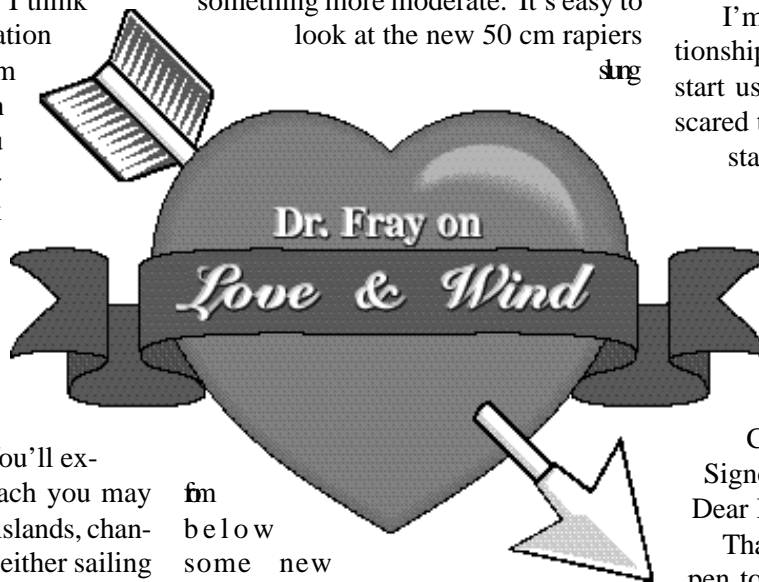

Dear Dr. Fray:

This is awkward but I need to ask someone. Is my fin big enough? I mean, will it take me where I want to go?

Anonymous

Dear Mr George Ladella of 261 Elm Street. Doraville, GA.

Fin size can be overrated. While the new wide boards can carry a big fin, older and smaller boards sail fine with something more moderate. It's easy to look at the new 50 cm rapiers fm below some new epoxy wonders and feel that your fin is inadequate. But your 275 convertible will be happy with something much smaller. A nice little swept 32 cm fin will have you whooping it up with delight.

Dear Dr. Fray:

Even though I'm middle-aged, I've never been on a board before. Is it too late at my age to get started windsurfing?

Signed, Young at Heart

Dear Still Ticking,

Windsurfing is truly a sport that can be enjoyed by all ages. At our seniors last fall, we had sailors almost 80 competing. Just make sure that you start with quality instruction and that initial awkwardness will quickly fade. Soon, you'll be having fun like the rest of us.

Dr. Fray:

My gear and I are separated. Is there anything I can do to keep us together?

Signed, Lonely

Dear Lonely,

Next time, don't use bungee cords you bought at Big Lots. Don't tie down $2000 worth of windsurfing gear with a cheap rubber band- invest in some decent tie-downs. If you don't care anymore about your gear, don't be surprised when it takes off down the highway without you.

Dear Dr. Fray:

I'm getting to the point in my relationship with my board that I need to start using the harness but I'm a little scared that it will hurt. I really want to start sailing longer than 15 minutes at a time when the wind blows more than 10 mph- and it would make my board so happy, too. I've heard about catapults and other such incidents and I don't think I can do it if it will cause me pain.

Can you advise me?

Signed, Cautious

Dear Knuckle-dragger,

That's right, that's what used to happen to folks in the old days, pre-harness, who sailed for extended periods of time. Their ARMS would stretch. You have to get over your fears. We can tell you that the pain of sailing without a harness much exceeds whatever discomfort a catapult may bring. And frankly, catapults don't happen that frequently- especially as you begin to use those footstraps. By using your harness and footstraps you can have a closer relationship with your board. You'll both be happier.
